

The Hamilton Integrated Research Ethics Board (HiREB) is moving

The Hamilton Integrated Research Ethics Board will be moving into the David Braley Research Institute effective Monday, March 13th, 2023.

What does this change mean for me?

For many research teams, this change will have minimal impact. We will continue to be accessible in the same way to all of our researchers, regardless of where they, or HiREB, are located. The contact telephone extension in the informed consent forms remains the same.

For research teams conducting Health Canada regulated clinical trials, you may additionally be required to notify Health Canada. Please notify the study sponsor of this change (industry-sponsored studies), or contact your institution for guidance if needed (investigator-initiated studies).

Moving forward, the CTSI form for HiREB should be entered as follows:
